SAVE THE DATE | JULY 26 - 29, 2019

The AAVA would like to extend an invitation to all EAVA members to attend the 2019 AAVA Conference in Banff, Alberta located in the majestic Canadian Rocky Mountains. The University of Calgary Faculty of Veterinary Medicine boasts a 740 square metre, state of the art anatomy facility, which includes a fully equipped plastination lab, bone preparation workshop and teaching laboratory. Tours will be arranged both before and after the conference. This is a perfect opportunity to connect with new colleagues from around the globe.

A $500CDN bursary is available to support select graduate and undergraduate students to attend the conference.
